DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Toshiaki (JP 11-273313) in view of Inoue (USP 6,898,795). Toshiaki et al discloses a disc cleaner 1 comprising a support body 4 including holding plane for holding a disc cartridge 201, disc support plane 6 for contacting with non-storage region 202b of the disc 202 around its center hole 202a, a convex portion 6a for fitting into the center hole 202a of the disc 201, a rotary knob 3 including a contact plane 14b for contacting with the non-storage region 202b of the disc 201 around the center hole 202a and concave portion 14a for fitting the convex portion 6a to turn against the convex portion 14b, the support body 4 holding two different types of cartridge 201 and 301 (note Fig. 1-2, paragraphs.[0012]-[0014], [0020], [0021], [0024]). Toshiaki et al does not discloses a disc cartridge which exposing one side of disc, which including a rotational member for opening and closing shutters, and a shutter driving member for turning the rotational member of the disc cartridge. Inoue discloses a disc cartridge 1 which exposing one side of disc, which including a rotational member 4 for opening and closing shutters 9 and 10, and a shutter driving member 71 for turning the rotational member 4 of the disc cartridge 1, the shutter driving member 71 including interlocking portion that interlocking with shutter operating portion 4, a cap member for sandwiching a part of the interlocking portion of the shutter driving member 71 (note Fig. 1-9, col. 4, line 60 to col. 9, line 54). To provide the cleaner of Toshiaki et al with a type of disc cartridge which including a rotational member for opening and closing shutters and a shutter driving member for turning the rotational member would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, in view of the teachings of Inoue, since all the claimed elements were known in the prior art and one skilled in the art could have combined the elements as claimed by known method with no change in their respective functions, and the combination would have yielded nothing more than predictable results to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention, i.e., one skilled in the art would have recognized that the shutter driving member of Inoue would allow the disc cleaner of Toshiaki et al to reasonably and smoothly open and close the shutter by rotational member for cleaning different type of disc cartridge.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 10-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
